Governor Evers and Members of the Wisconsin State Legislature

The University of Wisconsin–Madison has long been a vital component to the economic and educational wellbeing of the State of Wisconsin. For every tax payer dollar the state invests in UW–Madison, the university generates $26 for the state economy, a $30 billion annual impact on the state. Each year thousands of Wisconsin students attend UW–Madison, and a majority of them eventually live and work in Wisconsin. Investing in UW–Madison is an investment in the state of Wisconsin.

As you debate and consider priorities in the 2021-23 Wisconsin state budget we strongly encourage you to provide the following support for UW–Madison and the University of Wisconsin System.

- An increase in ongoing state support to help meet future needs and continue the university's status as a world-class institution.
- Financial tools, at no cost to state taxpayers, that will help the university manage its finances. Flexibilities to invest and borrow funds for future short-term financial needs will directly help UW–Madison recover from a $320 million impact through the end of this fiscal year due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
- Approval of two building projects that will replace deteriorating campus buildings and help us expand the state's talent pool and deepen work with Wisconsin industry: a new College of Engineering building and a new College of Letters & Science academic building. Both projects include a significant gift and fundraising component.

As proud alumni and friends of UW–Madison, we stand together in support of our great university. We ask you to work together in a bipartisan effort to invest in UW–Madison and higher education in Wisconsin.
