Shelia Stubbs Begins Campaign for State Assembly with Endorsements from 38 Current and Former Elected Officials

State Representative Terese Berceau Joins Long List of Elected Officials Supporting Stubbs

A bevy of State, County, and City elected leaders have endorsed Shelia Stubbs for State Assembly during the first days of her campaign. Supervisor Stubbs is a Democrat running in the 77th Assembly District. That district is currently represented by Terese Berceau, who announced on February 2, 2018 that she will not seek re-election this fall. If necessary, there will be a primary election on August 14, 2018 and the general election is November 6, 2018.

“Shelia Stubbs will serve the people of the 77th District well. She understands complex policy issues, she has strong progressive values, and she’s a fighter for what’s right. She has my enthusiastic support,” Representative Berceau said.

Representative Berceau joins State Senators La Tonya Johnson and Mark Miller, and State Representatives David Crowley, Evan Goyke, Dianne Hesselbein, Melissa Sargent, and Lisa Subeck in endorsing Supervisor Stubbs.

Dane County officials supporting Stubbs include Sheriff Dave Mahoney, District Attorney Ismael Ozanne, County Clerk Scott McDonell, Former Dane County Executive Kathleen Falk, County Board Chair Sharon Corrigan, and 18 current and former County Supervisors.

Supervisor Stubbs is also endorsed by a number of City officials including Madison Alders Shiva Bidar-Sielaff, Sheri Carter, Mo Cheeks, and Mark Clear and Alder Julia Arata-Fratta from Fitchburg.

Supervisor Shelia Stubbs was first elected to the Dane County Board in 2006 and has been re-elected five times. The Second Vice-Chair of the Board, Supervisor Stubbs serves on numerous committees including the Executive Committee and the Personnel and Finance Committee, which oversees the creation of the County Budget. She chairs the UW-Extension Committee and is the co-chair of the Racial Disparities Sub-Committee. Active statewide and nationally as well, Supervisor Stubbs is chair of the Wisconsin Counties Association (WCA) Judicial and Public Safety Steering Committee and is the secretary of the National Association of Counties (NACO) Women of NACO.

Supervisor Stubbs is a former Senior Probation and Parole Agent at the Wisconsin Department of Corrections. A native of Arkansas, Supervisor Stubbs has a degrees in political science (Tougaloo College in Mississippi) and criminal justice administration (Mount Senario College in Ladysmith, WI) as well as a master's in management from Cardinal Stritch University.
