Republicans Vote against Closing ‘Dark Store’ Loophole

Tax burden continues to shift to local homeowners due to Republican inaction

MADISON – Today, Assembly Republicans voted against closing the ‘Dark Store Loophole’. Based on a Supreme Court decision, big box retailers are allowed to base their tax assessments on their value as a vacant store rather than a store in operation. This so-called ‘Dark Store Loophole’ saves corporate retailers millions of dollars and shifts the property tax burden residential and small business taxpayers. Assembly Democratic Leader Representative Gordon Hintz (D-Oshkosh) released the following statement on the Assembly Republicans vote against closing this loophole.

“Let me be clear, failing to take legislative action on this issue is making a decision,” said Rep. Hintz. “Assembly Republicans decision to vote against bringing AB 386 to the floor today or any day this legislative session is telling. This is a green light for a growing number of retailers - large and small - to contest their assessments. Continued inaction results in lost revenue that will increasingly be made up by increased property taxes on residential homeowners and small businesses.”

Assembly Democrats made a motion on the floor to pull the bill from committee for a vote on the floor. Every Assembly Republican but one voted against the motion. Despite having a majority of the Assembly as co-sponsors, the majority party voted against the bill. Even the bill’s author voted against taking up the bill he helped write.

“Communities across the state have asked us to fix this loophole. Local governments are asking us for relief from the expense of costly legal fights against well-funded national retailers. I have never met a homeowner who thinks they need to pay more in property taxes so that a large national retailer can receive an unfair tax break. Today’s vote by Assembly Republicans was effectively endorsing a continued shift in the property tax burden to local homeowners.”

To cite just a few examples of retailers using the dark store loophole to avoid paying taxes:

- Using the Dark Store Loophole, Menards reduced the value of its property in Fond du Lac, from $9.2 million to $5.2 million.
- A CVS property in Appleton reduced the value of its property from $4.4 million to $1.8 million. Local taxpayers are now on the hook for a $350,000 refund.
