Madison – Today, State Representative John Spiros (R-Marshfield) announced he will be holding a budget listening session in the City of Marshfield to allow residents of the 86th Assembly District to share their thoughts, ideas, concerns and/or support for the 2017-19 proposed State Budget. This event is designed to be an opportunity for residents to have their voice heard in Madison.

Attendees are asked to limit their comments to the state budget proposals so that all in attendance may have a chance to speak if they wish. If residents would like to address other issues outside of the budget, they are encouraged to contact Rep. Spiros' Madison office directly.
