REP. DOYLE TO HOLD ROUNDTABLE ON TRANSPORTATION CONCERNS

MADISON - Representative Steve Doyle (D-Onalaska) is hosting a discussion on the condition of Wisconsin's roadways on Monday, March 20th at 2:00 p.m. in Banquet Room 4 of the Omni Center in Onalaska. Public is invited.

Joining Rep. Doyle will be local officials, business owners, and community leaders who will describe the impact lower transportation funding levels have on their businesses and municipalities. Rusty Cunningham, editor of the La Crosse Tribune will serve as moderator.

WHAT: Transportation Roundtable

WHEN: Monday, March 20th at 2pm

WHERE: Omni Center Banquet Room 4
415 Main Street
Onalaska, WI 54650

"Transportation funding is the most pressing issue facing our state right now and it affects everyone from families driving to work, students riding a bus to school, and businesses transporting their products across the state," said Doyle. "This isn't a Republican or Democratic issue – it is an economic issue."

Rep. Doyle will bring participants' concerns to Madison to reinforce the growing urgency to find sustainable solutions to our state's crumbling roadways.
