

One City Schools Announces Partnership with Access Community Health Centers

Two South Madison Service Providers Team Up to Support Children, Families and Educators

Madison, WI (March 20, 2019) – Access Community Health Centers has been working to improve the lives of Dane County residents for nearly 40 years. Access provides clinical care that includes medical, dental, and behavior health care and affiliated pharmacy services. As a Federally Qualified Health Center (FQHC), Access offers quality services regardless of a person’s ability to pay.

Today, One City Schools is proud to announce it will partner with Access to support One City Schools. Access will provide care for children, families, and employees of One City who are in need of health care services at any of its five area clinics.

“Before children can learn, they must be healthy. By partnering with Access, we can help ensure our children and families receive superior health care no matter their life situation. It is wonderful that our employees can benefit from this relationship, too,” said Kaleem Caire, CEO. “The focus on early childhood is key and we are honored to partner with Access.”

Access’ three Madison locations offer comprehensive services under one roof, creating a true “health care home” for patients. “It is often a struggle for families to travel for appointments. Parents are often required to miss work, and their children miss school. We do our best to mitigate those problems by providing coordinated clinical care at a single health care home,” said Dr. Ken Loving, Access’ Chief Executive Officer.

Access accepts all health insurance plans, including BadgerCare. Access also serves those without insurance and charges are based on a sliding fee scale that provides significant discounts for services. Medications for people without insurance are also significantly discounted.

“Access is here to support our community. We think a partnership with One City will provide great opportunities for children and their families,” said Loving. “We applaud One City’s focus on serving our youngest children before they enter school.”

More information on Access Community Health Centers can be found here:

<https://accesscommunityhealthcenters.org>. Also, contact Ken Loving, CEO of Access at (608) 443-5500 or Ken.Loving@accesshealthwi.org.

More information on One City Schools can be found here: www.onecityschools.org. Also, contact Jessica Tormey, VP of Public Engagement and Advancement at (608) 268-8004 or jtormey@onecityschools.org.

###