STATEMENT FROM WAUKESHA COUNTY EXECUTIVE PAUL FARROW ON “BADGER BOUNCE BACK” ORDER

(WAUKESHA, WI) - Waukesha County Executive Paul Farrow made the following statement after Governor Tony Evers announced the “Badger Bounce Back” order on April 20, 2020.

“Governor Evers’ new order makes it clear that he does not plan to open Wisconsin any time in the near future. Meeting the requirements outlined just to reach Phase One of his plan may be months away as they are impossible to meet with current testing capabilities, with no guidance on how the state will get the economy back on track.

“This plan continues to leave millions of struggling Wisconsin families in the dark about how their livelihoods will be protected, while ignoring the common sense measures we can take to protect the physical and economic health of residents.

“Wisconsinites know the risks of the pandemic, but they also know the effect of losing their livelihood and economic security as a result of it. I am calling on Governor Evers to take a more aggressive approach to getting Wisconsin back to work.”
