Funding for Voter ID Campaign

Madison... Rep. Bob Gannon, R-Slinger, issued this statement Monday morning regarding the call for funding for a campaign to inform voters of the Voter ID law that has been in effect since the spring primaries and will be in effect during future elections.

“There are more people voting in these elections than ever before. In the 2012 Presidential primary, when there was no ID law in effect, there were 1,088,102 votes in Wisconsin. This year there were 2,113,544 votes in the Presidential primary in Wisconsin. There are no problems with voting other than the students at the University of Wisconsin; some of whom also disrupted the assembly chamber on Election Day to protest the new voter ID rules. The legislature should spend money as judiciously as possible and only when absolutely necessary.”
