Senator Taylor Questions “America First” and the Incitement of Violence

(MADISON) – Yesterday Representative Maxine Waters (D-California) canceled several events after receiving a “very serious death threat”. The threat came shortly after the President personally attacked Waters for her calls for organized protests against his administration, warning her to “Be careful what you wish for Maxine!”

Rep. Waters is the latest to join the long list of targets of Trump’s Twitter attacks, two other notable examples being American Businesses, Harley-Davidson and Red Hen, the small town diner where Sarah Huckabee Sanders was asked to leave.

In response to the threats made towards Waters as well as the Presidents other outbursts, Senator Lena Taylor (D-Milwaukee) made the following comments:

“I don’t know what floored me most, seeing an American president threaten an American company, while giving American money to a Taiwanese business, or watching a Wisconsin Governor and a Wisconsin Congressman say nothing while standing on Wisconsin soil and watching someone attack a Wisconsin business.”

“That’s just another example of an American business to come under attack by this so-called “America First” President.”

“Couple that with the fact that this President would make veiled threats against a member of Congress! Unbelievable! Waters received serious death threats because of his antics. Where does it stop?”
