NICHOLSON CAMPAIGN RELEASES NEW AD HIGHLIGHTING VUKMIR'S ATTACKS ON PRESIDENT TRUMP

August 1, 2018 – (Delafield, WI) – Ronica Cleary, Communications Director for Marine veteran and political outsider Kevin Nicholson, issued the following statement regarding the ad released by the campaign:

"In 2016, Leah Vukmir attacked President Trump by calling him 'offensive to everyone!' Her remarks show us what we've always known – there is actually a significant difference in this primary between the two candidates. One candidate is filled with disdain not only for President Trump, but also for his supporters. Meanwhile, Kevin Nicholson voted for President Trump in both the 2016 primary and general elections, and supports the President and his agenda."

See for yourself in this new digital ad featuring Vukmir's 2016 remarks: "I just got back from Washington, D.C., and I talked to a lot of folks out there. And people are saying – I spoke to a lot of women who said, you know, 'Yeah, he's offensive.' But he's offensive to everyone! He's offensive to women, he's offensive to men, he's offensive to little people, he's offensive to fat people. He's offensive to everyone!"

Nicholson is a decorated Marine Corps veteran who served combat tours in both Iraq and Afghanistan. He currently works as a business consultant, helping companies solve their toughest problems. He is a first-time candidate running in the Republican primary to defeat Democrat Tammy Baldwin. He and his wife live in Delafield with their three young children.
