

“We are assessing the co-chairs’ proposed confidentiality agreement, which we were not aware of until shortly before the press began reporting on it. We will continue attempting to reach agreement on this issue, as we began attempting to do more than six months ago. Our interest remains in ensuring that Wisconsinites are represented as effectively as possible and that the enforcement of our environmental, consumer protection, and other laws is not impeded by partisan gamesmanship.”