Erpenbach Statement on Extraordinary Lame-Duck Power Grab

On November 6th, the people of Wisconsin voted to restore the balance of power to state government. Days later, Republicans began drafting historically unprecedented legislation to undue the will of the voters.

We have checks and balances for a reason, and it's time for Republicans to stop putting party before people and work together with the incoming administration on the problems facing our state—funding our schools, fixing our crumbling roads, and an economic development strategy that works for everyone.
