Congressmen Kind and Pocan enthusiastically endorse Patty Schachtner for State Senate

St. Croix, WI - In a show of Democratic unity and solidarity, Representatives Ron Kind and Mark Pocan have endorsed St. Croix County Medical Examiner Patty Schachtner in her bid for State Senate District 10.

“Throughout her career of service in Western Wisconsin, Patty Schachtner has proven she is always focused on common sense solutions,” said Kind. “We need more of that in politics, and that's why I am supporting Patty for state senate.”

Schachtner’s career of public service includes working hard to address the opioid epidemic and mental health crisis as her county’s medical examiner and supporting local students, schools and classrooms as a member of the Somerset School Board.

This history of public service is reflected in the theme of Schachtner’s campaign: Finding common sense solutions that work for the people of her district. Patty will not ask which political party an idea came from, just whether it is a good idea for Western Wisconsin.

“I’m proud to endorse Patty because she stands for the values that we share as Wisconsinites, service, dedication, opportunity and community” said Pocan. “Patty has dedicated her career to serving the people of western Wisconsin, and I look forward to her continuing to do so in the State Senate.”

“I’m deeply grateful to Congressmen Kind and Pocan for supporting my campaign to represent the people of the 10th Senate District,” said Schachtner. “It has never been more clear that we must work together at every level government if we want to see real change that puts people first - from health care to tax policy and everything in between.”
