Craig Thompson, executive director of the Transportation Development Association of Wisconsin (TDA) issued the following statement in reaction to the resignation of Secretary Mark Gottlieb:

“On behalf of TDA members, I wish to express our sincere gratitude to Secretary Gottlieb for his service to the state of Wisconsin. Always the consummate professional, Secretary Gottlieb worked tirelessly to prioritize, streamline and make the department as transparent as possible. At the same time, he demonstrated true leadership by explaining to the public and elected officials the real state of the transportation budget and laid out reasonable alternatives that could be followed to ensure Wisconsin’s transportation system works for all of us.

“Gottlieb’s unique background which included serving in the U.S. military, working as a civil engineer as well as serving as a mayor and state legislator provided him with tremendous insight and an ability to effectively run such a large department.

“We wish him all the best in his retirement.

“TDA also congratulates David Ross on his appointment as the incoming secretary of the Department of Transportation, and we look forward to working with him in the upcoming years.”
